Art in Action: The Creative Process

For A-level, IB, Foundation and BTEC Level 3 students

We return this year with another exciting day of Art & Design in London this autumn. In this visually stimulating programme, students will meet and learn from four leading artists working in different areas, to get a taste of what inspires them and how they make their living as artists. Come armed with a question and hear how ideas become art. We are delighted to announce that the artist Grayson Perry CBE RA will join us on this day and that Rebecca Wright, graphic designer and Programme Director at Central Saint Martins, will chair the day.

- Fire up your creativity
- An anthropology of ourselves
- Slapstick violence and absurd comedy
- The joy of real art

Art in ACTION

Fire up your creativity / Grayson Perry CBE RA

Turner Prize winner Grayson Perry will fire up students' creative juices with a lively session exploring the art world, being original and how to follow your own artistic vision.

Turner Prize-winner Grayson Perry's work is original and provocative. He uses traditional forms such as ceramics and tapestries in unconventional ways to comment on society's injustices and hypocrisies.

Slapstick violence and absurd comedy / Emma Hart

Artist Emma Hart's work has an emotional honesty and sharp wit which draws the viewer in for a stimulating and memorable experience. Intense and comically dark, her pieces are heavily symbolic, drawing on issues of domestic and emotional anxiety.

Emma Hart is an installation artist whose multidisciplinary practice incorporates sculpture, video and performance. Her recent spectacular and engaging installation 'Mamma Mia!' was an award-winner and received rave reviews.

An anthropology of ourselves / Simon Roberts

Simon Roberts takes large format photographs with great technical precision, often from elevated positions. The distanced vantage point allows the relationship of individuals and groups to the landscape to be clearly observed, and echoes the visual language of history painting.

Simon Roberts is a critically-acclaimed British photographer whose work deals with our relationship to landscape and notions of identity. He was recently made an Honorary Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society.

The joy of real art / Jock McFadyen RA

British painter Jock McFadyen RA will talk about the process and inspiration behind his paintings. He will discuss the importance of viewing art in the flesh, and enabling people to experience first-hand the texture, focus and scale of real artwork.

Jock McFadyen is a contemporary painter whose quirky, thought-provoking and sometimes gritty urban scenes offer a serious comment on life in modern Britain. He works from an East End studio.
